August Belmont's Blandy Captures the Mile and a Haif Handleap-Handzarra, 30 to 1, a Surprise - Only Two Favorites Succeed at Sheepshead Bay.

It was delightfully cool at the Sheepshead Bay track yesterday afternoon, and another crowd of 15,000 persons came down from the city to enjoy the sport. But the picking of winners was so difficult that good humor tras at a premium before the end of the card was reached. Only two favorites came home with the money.

Fred Burlew's Hooray was a hot choice olds, six furlongs on the turf; but after making the bulk of the running he stopped in the stretch and W. H. Snyder's Anodyne, 7 to 1, won by a length and a half in 1:14. Hooray was half a length before James R. Keene's Capias, 7 to 1, who was messed about considerably by Nicol.

August Belmont's Blandy, an even money vorite, won the handicap for three-yearolds and upward, at a mile and a half, in supurb style. Odom let him breeze along behind H. K. Vingut's Bellatrix, 12 to 1, who set the pace for a mile, and then cut him locse. It was only a gallop for Blandy to wire after that, where he won by two a half lengths in 2:35. Bellatrix stood drive and kept the place from 15 to 1, by half a length. James R. Keene's Yon Tromp, 13 to 5, quit at three-quarters of Blandy gave 23 pounds to Bella-

Alexander scored by three sets to one, 3-6. 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. After some poor play at the start Alexander settled down to fast, aggressive work, forcing his younger opponent to the defensive. Le Roy made a number seemed likely to win. He lacked steadiness, however, and toward the close was completely outpointed. The scores:

Men's Singles—Championship, dinal round—F. B. Alexander, West Side Tennis Club, defeated Robert Le Roy, New York Tennis Club, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Women's Singles—Second round—Miss Souther, Orange L. T., defeated Miss Morgan, Short Hills, 6-5, 6-2; Miss Day, Orange, defeated Miss Smith, Boston, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5; Miss Neely, Chicago, defeated Mrs. Edwin Lewis, Bernardsville, 6-0, 6-4.

On the courts of the Kings County Tennis Club, Kingston avenue and Bergen street, play for the club championship was continued yesterday, with the semi-final as the feature. By defeating Joseph T. McMahon in a close four set match Frederick Y. Anderson won his way to the final. He will meet the winner of the Mollenhauer-Westfall contest to decide the championship.

In the match yesterday Anderson had a bit the better of it except on the third set when he went to pieces, his opponent taking the set by a love score. Anderson's side line shots and good net work were the features. The Class C handicap singles was finished in favor of Clark, scratch, who played a remarkable match with H. Hammett, owe half 15, to decide the final round. In spite of the handicap Clark narrowly escaped defeat, three of the four sets going several times to decide matters. The summary:

Moran was as mad as a hatter when Handzarra won. In the early betting he placed $50 on the filly at 15 to 1, only to see the odds go up to 40 and even 50 to 1 at the close. There was very little big betting on the last race,

BROOKLYN, 6; NEW YORK (N. L.), 5.

The New York Nationals were asleep at the switch at Washington Park yesterday afternoon and the Brooklyns, who are to the champions as a hand car to the lightning limited, pushed them off the track. The Brooklyns this time really played much better ball than the New Yorks, notwithstanding the hard batting of the latter. The friends of the Knickerbockers rubbed their eyes in astonishment at seeing them beaten and at the same time outbatting their opponents. The thinly populated grandstand rang with cheers from the faithful Brooklyn few at the unaccustomed sight.

A tangle of errors in the fifth inning put the New Yorks to the bad. The New Yorks had a lead of four runs at the end of the third inning. This lead looked big as a mountain at the time, but an inning later had dwindled to a molehill. The Brooklyns took to bunting, and the New Yorks were the ones who played like tail enders in trying to cope with the buntation game. McIntyre of Brooklyn had blinding speed and, settling down admirably after the third, pitched a nervier game than Ames, who was unsteady and flighty and himself took a part in the frazzled fielding that upset the leaders. The Brooklyns woke up and played a sharp, energetic game. Their fielding was businessilke and fast. Fine catches by Dobbs and Lumley put a crimp in New York's attempts to even up the score. Moreover, Lumley made a brace of slashing throws that spiked the guns of the wabbling champs.

Husky hitting by Dahlen, Devlin, Bower-From Bookmaking-Charley Heineman Stopped With a Complimentary Ticket ullivans Do Not Bet on Arabo. A story was in circulation at the Sheeps-head Bay track yesterday that Frank Tyler, the independent layers operating in the front line with the Mets, had decided to retire permanently from the bookmaking business at the end of the present meeting. Tyler sat with a party of friends down at the Bay on Thursday evening and in the course of made half a million dollars in the ring he had concluded to get out of the game and avoid the wear and tear of the profession Last week Tyler, it is said, made $80,000, of which amount he cleaned up $29,700 last Saturday. For that reason, he told his friends, he had had enough. But it seems that Tyler was only joking, for when The Sun man has been making one of the biggest books in the ring. He has made his own prices He wagered $3,000 on Chimney Sweep in the second, $3,500 on Blandy in the third, and so put a crimp in New York's attempts to even up the score. Moreover, Lumley made a brace of slashing throws that spiked the guns of the wabbling champs.

Husky hitting by Dahlen, Devlin, Bowerman, Donlin, McGann and Mertes in the second and third innings gave the New Yorks four runs. In the fourth Dobbs beat out a twister to Devlin. Hall bunted and Bowerman threw too high to first to get him. A base on balls to Lumley filled the bases, Batch sent a single crashing past Dahlen which brought Dobbs and Hall home. Malay grounded to Devlin, forcing Lumley. Ames's delirious throw of Babb's bunt allowed Batch and Malay to score and Babb to chase to third. Babb scooted home on Mitchell's leisurely jumper to Devlin. In the sixth Babb laid the ball down for a safety, but did not stop at first, as Devlin threw past McGann to the fence, and Babb danced around to third. Then Ames slammed in a horribly wild pitch, on which Babb scored.

Mertes tripled in the fifth inning with one out. He was run to cover on Dahlen's grounder to Babb. The third New York out in the sixth inning was a brilliant running catch by Dobbs, which shut off a run as there was a man on base at the time. An even more propitious outlook for New York was squelched in the eighth. Strang tripled and scored on Bowerman's lift to Hall. Ames singled and Browne hit a liner to deep right. Lumley caught the ball on the run and threw to Mitchell before Ames could scurry back to first. MeIntyre struck out Donlin and Mertes in the ninth and Babb disposed of McGann by a pretty throw from deep short.

Mike Donlin got a clout on the head in the second inning that made him see stars. He ran to third from second on a wild pitch. Bergen threw to head him off and the ball hit Donlin came around. The score:

Philadelphia

Tim. with his usual good nature, said it was all right and Zimmer went up on the roof to get some fresh air and incidentally administer several mental kicks.

When Anodyne won the Panay Stakes in W. H. Snyder's colors, Albert Simons stepped up to the judges' stand and proceeded to bid the Henry of Navarre filly from $1,500, her entered selling price, up to $3,750, at which point Snyder kept her with a $5 increase. This hig boost netted Fred Burlew, who ran second with Hooray, just $1,125. Snyder is a turf associate of John E. Madden, between whom and Simons there is not the best of feeling. Simons's action was ascribed, therefore, to that cause.

Although maiden jockeys had the mounts in the first race, there was plenty of betting. Such operators as George Wheelock and Charley Fox bet on Consideration. John W. Schorr, Dick Brown, John Moran and Henry Harris were among those who played Whorler. Frank Hayes won a nice bet on Arabo, with Masaniello supported by Fred Calboun, Orlando Jones and others. Billy Du Bois lost a wager on Arsenal.

Ala Russell, the Western filly who ran off with the second race, was heavily backed by John An Trom Costigan and Charley Heney played Tickle. Charley Cash went to In Line and Fred Lowe. Morris Hayman backed Miss Point Tom Costigan and Charley Heney played Tickle. Charley Cash went to In Line and Fred Lowe. Morris Hayman backed Miss Point Tom Costigan and Charley Heney played Tickle. Charley Cash went to In Line and Saac Frank took Flavigny.

John A. Drake bet only $2,500 on Blandy in the third race. Blandy was regarded as the surest of sure things by Leo Mayer, Coleman, the Lichtensteins, Louis Snell, Eole Pearsall, Joe Hayman, Kid Rogers and other big bettors. E. E. Smathers's Uncle Charley, who was backed down to flyes from tens, was left at the post for the second time in succession, Dave Johnson and Morris Stack being among those who bet on him. S. W., Saugerites, N. Y.— Since the fall of 1890. Elberfeld has been knocking loose the cover of the ball since he returned to the fray.

The supple Willie Dahien has all the ball players beaten at doing the spill when avoiding being touched by the ball at the finish of a slide. Smyser Bro. Whenever two games are played in one afternoon as the result of a postponement, the first game played is the game scheduled for that day. It wins. that day. B wins.

Gilbert was out of the game yesterday with a swollen foot. Shoes too light. Had he been in, he would have covered first on McGann's throw to Dahlen in the fifth inning and thus have saved Dahlen a wild throw. Nobody covered the hag for Dahlen's return throw.

Larchmont's Annual Regatta.

The annual regatta of the Larchmont Yacht Club will be sailed on July 4. This will be the twenty-sixth annual event of the club, and as usual it will be one of the most important of the season. There will be races for all classes, regular, special, restricted and one design, and the schootiers of Class B will race for the Colt cup. This will be a contest between the new Elmina II. and the Corona. The preparatory signal will be made at 11:30 o'clock, and the yachts will be sent off at intervals of five minutes in order of class. There will be a prize in each class where two yachts start, a second prize when three start and a third prize when five start. The regatta committee is Charles P. Tower, Howell C. Perrin and T. J. S. Flint. Entries close for the regatta with the con mittee at Larchmont at 8 P. M. next Saturday. Club will be sailed on July 4. This will be the Hupa in the Water.

The open power launch Hupa, which was The open power launch Hupa, which was built for C. Howard Clark of Philadelphia by Lawley from desirns by Arthur Biney, has been launched. This boat is a handsome one and is a good serviceable type. She is painted black and varnished. She has three cockpits and looks to be a racer. Her dimensions are 80 feet on the water line, 83 feet over all, 8.8 feet beam and 3.0 feet draft. She is equipped with a six cylinder Standard motor of 100 horse-power, and it is expected that she will make twenty miles an hour.

TROUBLE FOR LEANDER. Two Men on the Sick List-Vespers Cover

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. HENLEY-ON-THAMES, June 30 .- A heavy rain early this morning caused the river to run stronger than usual. The Vesper crew went out about 11 o'clock for an hour. They paddled down, sometimes stopping altogether. They made the whole dis-tance up the river at their usual stroke of 34. In the afternoon they did similar work, taking 7 minutes 13 seconds to go up the course. The wind was behind them, but work, taking 7 minutes is seconds to go up the course. The wind was behind them, but it was not strong.

The Leander crew did not go out this morn-ing. Escembe, who strained himself Wednes-day, has gone to London to see a doctor about his sprain. He may row again to-morrow. Powell, another of the Leander crew, is suffer-ing from a boil and was unable to row to-day. The changes are causing much trouble to the Mail Vote on Question of Remitting Ball Players' Fines.

President Pulliam has sent out a request to the National League directors for a mail vote on the question of remitting fines of over $10 that have been imposed on players this season. "The fines were imposed," said Mr. Pulliam yesterday, "under the Fleischmann resolution, which the judge in Boston declared dead at the time of the McGraw-Dreyfussease on the ground that a new constitution had been adopted by the league since the resolution was passed. So far mine is the only vote of the directors I have received, but I expect a full vote in by the Fourth of July. I voted to remit, myself.

There will be a nice Fourth of July present coming to a number of players if a majority votes as the president has. The different clubs were to have seen to it that players paid their own tines, but in case there was any oversight due to forgetfulness on the part of any club in this regard, some ball player may be surprised to have sent to him a check for money that did not come out of his own pocket. "The fines were imposed," said Mr. season.
